

ATCS HAS BEEN AWARDED IN JOINT VENTURE WITH AECOM, WINS 5 YEAR, $45M FEMA PCP CONTRACT.

Recently, a joint venture between the ATCS PLC and EDAW/AECOM was awarded a contract by FEMA to provide management and technical support services to FEMA’s Program Coordination and Planning Division (PCP). The award is for up to five years with a maximum funding of $45 million. The scope of the contract includes development of state-of-the-art tools, techniques, and best practices to enhance the ability of the PCP Division to execute its mission effectively.

The award is testament to the considerable partnership formed over the past ten years between ATCS and the FEMA PCP Division – both at Headquarters and in the field. ATCS has provided FEMA with a talented, diverse team of managers and professions that reflect the far-ranging scope of the PCP Division, which includes...

- Developing and conducting evaluations of on-going program delivery and after action reviews;
- Developing operational plans and procedures to support FEMA’s Public Assistance and Individual Assistance Branches;
- Assisting communities with long-term disaster coordination and planning;
- Designing and developing training programs in support of FEMA’s Disaster Assistance mission; and
- Ensuring that FEMA’s Disaster Assistance programs continue to function through continuity of operations and devolution planning.

This contract will support some of the agency’s most high profile projects, including the development of the National Disaster Recovery Framework (NDRF). The development of the framework will include close work with national and state partners as well as regional and community-specific outreach to determine needs, limitations, best practices and suggestions on direction.

This is one of a number of PCP program and policy development initiatives that CaPP is expected to support. In addition, this task order based contract will serve as the primary vehicle for supporting FEMA ESF-14 Long-Term Community Recovery field operations. This will utilize ATCS’ recognized industry-leading expertise in pre- and post-disaster recovery planning. As the managing partner of the joint venture, ATCS will combine our direct knowledge of FEMA recovery programs with EDAW/AECOM’s global expertise in urban planning and program design and evaluation.
